Biography

DALE REAM, PRODUCER, SENIOR WRITER, CREATIVE DEVELOPMENT

Dale has years of writing experience under his belt and a life-long desire to direct movies in his heart. After eight years as a Combat Correspondent for the Marine Corps, Dale spent more than seven years in the television news industry as a photographer, reporter and anchor researching, writing and editing award-winning news and feature stories.

Through the years Dale found outlets for his writing, but it wasn't until God revealed Dale's place in Awaken Pictures that the years of desire and experience found a true home. He also brings years of marketing/sales experience to the table, which makes him an efficient and thorough marketing researcher, skilled in finding valuable marketing venues and trends, which will help him to wear the hat of producer.

Dale serves as a producer, co-writer and co-director of the upcoming Black History project "Freedom Lost? The Story of James City" and has been working in development with Tom Swift to co-write a screenplay for "Illusions", Awaken Pictures' first feature length movie about UFO and alien phenomena..
